

David Robinson

David Robinson, an Australian who's lived in Bangkok since 2002 and with a wealth of experience in broadcasting, arts management and NGO work, was enlisted by Bangkok River Partners to market the Chao Phraya River as a destination for leisure and tourism. Building the brand included reaching out to the creative community already active in Bang Rak and Klongsan, marking the genesis of the Creative District.